Two months invo completely cured her, and Washington will hereafter be denied the light of her presence. She declares that there are more exantious causes to disturb one's temper in Washington than in any other corner of the karth, and that life there is not worth the countless worlds one must endure to unjoy (f) it.

The servant question alone is one which calls for a special bill that even congress might interestitized in. All the cervants in Washington are of the casy going couthern darky type, with an indedence of manner and method that to a nervous northern individual becomes in time exaperating. They have not lest fleir knack of conceiling toothsome dishes, overy imaginable kind of not breast, and other lawting things appreciated by southern epicines; but they (in their own minde) authornly relaxe to encourage 8 o'clock dinners and millingth; suppers. The lold fashioned 3 o'clock dinner, universally served throughout the couth, is, to their way of thinking, a much more sensible way of conducting this important term of a day's history. Now, when one takes a furnished house in Washington, one must history. Now, when one takes a furnished house in Washington, one must necessarily take, half a dezen, more or less, lof the above type of servanta, and this begins at once to uncettle any proposed life of case and contentment.—

New Thing in Stock Cars. I saw up at S. Charles the other day, a new thing in steel, care, which is an much an improvement over the old kind as the drawing coscal is over the enigrant car. The Humane society could grant car. The Humann society could not have designed a more tattefactory convenience for the brute, creation, and with this now idea to begin, the accommodation of traveling stock will implify advance to the confortable stage. Cattle and horses have always suffered tortures in less cars, and I think every humann man will rejoice to see collectors made to asset their condition on a journey. These cars are modeled in the the ordinary to asset their condition on a journey. These cars are modeled after the ordinary open box concern so as to give plenty of air. The floor is heavy and slanting, so as to jailled a drain. On top of the car is a tank, to which a jape on either side connects. These is no fato four iron thoughs, from which the animals can drink fresh water at every stop, supplied from the tanks. By turning a crank the troughs are turned and the old water thrown out. Above the animal, heads are two hay racks with sliding weoden grates, which ofen and shut at the will of the operator do top of the car. These are great improvements for feeding and watering the stock, and it only remains for some genus to get the same number of entile into the present car he is the custom and still give them room to lie down.—A Stockman in Globe-Dumocrat.

One of the most original and courageons attempts to relieve the afflicted was made by Mrs. Cornelus Du Bois a number of years age, in laking twenty children, prenounced blud, from Randall's Island. They were put in a comfortable bouse, well cared forjand the best medical house, well cared for and the best medical attention secured. In less than a year awardeen of the twenty had their eyegight restored. It was not disease, but neglect, that had deprived them of it. Imagine the joy of these poor little sculs that had been mught they must grope through life as in one long night. The light from seventeen pair of grateful eyes—what a halo for the head of a good agree!

The mistral is the northwest wind, which is the securge of the south of Francain whiter and spring. The mountain ranges of the Coennes being covered with snow, and the shores of the Mediterranean being many degrees warmer, the icy cold air relis down the slopes of the mountains with terrific violence, and, invading Provence and Languedoe, deinvading Provence and Languedee, de-stroys the vineyards, uproofs trees, throws down buildings, and is so in-tensely dry that it withers every green thing. According to Strabe the melam-bereas precipitated men from their char-fets and stripped them of their arms and vestments. Locally the saying is that the three plagues of the country are the par-liament, the mistral, and the Durance.— Longman's Magazine.

The Fibers of Wool. The Fibers of Weel.

Why does not wood felt on the sheep's back? The answer is simple. Because all the fibers are lying one way. The serratures always point in the direction away from the root of the fiber, and thus they cannot fit into each other any more than two caw edges pointing the more than two saw edges pointing the same way could interleek, or than two same way could interfeel, or than two fir comes could stick together if both lay in the same direction. But reverse one of them and then try to draw it past the other while touching it, and they will at once become fastened together. In like manner, during the various processes of manufacture, the fibers of wool are palled about in every direction, and thus their edges are placed with many of the points facing color, other and yearls to points facing each other and ready to solze hold when the felting operation begins. - Dry Goods Chronicle. It is a common mistake for suppose that an angry bee is certain to sting on alighting upon a human hand. On the contrary, the will always examine the skin very carefully first with the pulpi—very delicate and nervous feeling organs, which are stinged near the sting. It may seem that the stings at once, and without core or reflection; but a two removes may seem that this stage at once, and without care or reflection; but a bee can do a great deal in a very short space of time, in proof of which it may be montioned that "she can flap her wings more than 400 times per second, and that each flap involves the extension and contracthan 400 times per second, and that each flap involves the extension and contraction, through a nerve impulse, of the muscles employed in the wing movements." This being the case, as Mr. Cheshiro says, "we shall see at case that the 'no time' difficulty is removed." When a person has been stung by a bee, he should remove the sting immediately, "if possible, by the rail, running it in the direction opposite to that by which it has entered." On no account let him take beld of the stung with his thumb and finger of a forceps, for then in will probably squeeza more of the virus into the wound from the peison bag, which is generally left attached to the sting.

A QUESTION OF HEALTH.

Bread, biscuit and cake, now generally made by the aid of baking powder, enter so largely into our daily food that their debasement by the introduction of any injumous or deteriorating substance is a matter of serious concern to the public health. What baking powder shall we use to avoid the lime and alum now found in so many leavening agents, and to insure pure, sweet and wholesome bread, is a question, therefore, of direct importance to every individual.

The "Royal" has been determined by the Government chemists and the most prominent food analysts to be the only baking powder made that is entirely free from lime, alum and other impurities, and absolutely pure. It is made from cream of tartar refined for its exclusive use by patent processes by which the tartrate of line is totally eliminated. No other baking powder manufacturer uses chemically pure cream of tartar, and hence the adulteration of other brands. The "Royal" is, accordingly, the only baking powder that will produce perfectly pure bread, biscuit, cake, pastry, etc.; and these articles are now pronounced more wholesome when raised by the Royal Baking Powder than when leavened by any other agent.

It is particularly a question of health, therefore, what baking powder we shall use; and those who appreciate the miseries of dyspepsia and other ailments that follow the use of impure food will not hesitate to select the "Royal."
